

London Vocabulary,

ENGLISH and LATIN:

Put into a New Method, proper to acquaint the Learner with Things as well as pure Latin Words.

Adorned with Twenty-fix Pictures.

For the Use of SCHOOLS.

The TWENTY-FIRST EDITION.

By JAMES GREENWOOD, Author of the English Grammar, and late Sut-Master of St. PAUL'S SCHOOL.

LONDON:

Printed for T. Longman, B. Law, F. & C. Rivington, R. Baldwin, G. & T. Wilkie, and J. Walker.

MD CCXCVII.

BOOKS printed for T. Longman, in Pater-Noster-Row, London.

- Short Introduction to GRAMMAR (commonly called the Accidence) generally to be used: Compiled for the Instruction of those who desire to attain the Knowledge of the Latin Tongue.
 - 2. Brevissima Institutio: Seu, Ratio Grammatices cognoscendre ad omnium Puerorum Utilitatem per-seripta (vulgò dicta Lily's Grammar) quam solam Regia Majestas in omnibus Scholis docendam præcipit.
 - 3. Lily's Rules construed: Whereunto are added, The. Robinson's Heteroclites, the Latin Syntaxis, and Qui mibi. Also there are added the Rules for the Genders of Nouns, and Preterpersect Tenses and Supines of Verbs, in English alone.
 - 4. Figuræ and Prosodia construed.
 - 5. Institutio Græcæ Grammatices Compendiaria, in Usum Regiæ Scholæ Westmonasteriensis. In Usum studiosæ Juventutis addunturetiam quidam Literarum Nexus & Scripturæ Compendia, quæ partim Elegantiæ, partim Brevitatis Causa, usurpari solent.
 - 6. A new Edition of Lily's Grammar, in which the Text has been collated with the oldest and best Editions; the Examples to the Rules compared with the ancient Roman Writers, and the Places cited from whence they were taken: Some few Things, which before were generally excepted against, amended; others, that were obscure and dissicult, explained by short Notes; and the Whole printed upon a new Letter, and in a more plain and commodious Manner than any former Edition.

PREFACE.

HE burthening of the Memory with more than is necessary at the Entrance upon any Study, is certainly a great Discouragement to the Learner. I have therefore, in the present Vocabulary, avoided every Thing that is not of immediate Use, as foreign to the Design; and industriously omitted that wast Heap of Words with which our common Word Books do so frequently swell. And this I have done, not with an Intention to arraign the Things of this Kind already printed, or to condemn them as useless, until I am better acquainted with their Author's Intentions; but this I will allow myself to affirm. That they are by no means properly adapted to School Purposes; for why should a Person that is to be prepared for the reading of Corderius, Phæirus, &c. be led through a Crowd of Modern Barbarism, and loaded with a Multitude of Words which the Romans never beard of; and so consequently will never be met with in any Classic or good Latin Author? a few of which I shall take the Liberty to instance, as they stand in the Books already abroad. Such are Ingratitudo, Glossularia, Ribes, Levillicum, Nicotiana, Pistacia, Aurantium, Papio, Hispaniolus, &c.

Net

Not to mention the Abundance of wrong Significations which they have given to Latin Words; a Fault scarce excusable, since it betrays the Learner into such Mistakes, as will for ever hinder bis true understanding of a Roman Author. Such are their rendering Arbustum for a Sbrub; Carmen for one fingle Verse; Humilitas for the Virtue that is contrary to Pride; Humilis sor one that is endued with it; Camera for a Chamber; Caminus for a Chimney; Æs for Brass; Predagogus for a School Master; Albumen for the White of the Eye; Laurus for a Laurel. And an endless Number of the like, which to repeat, would te as unpleasant bere, as they are unprofitable where they are. It would be too tedious likewise to take Notice bow often they confound Adjectives with Substantives, using them as such: The putting in of Phrases; the giving Latin Names to Modern Things; the using Circumlocutions, or two or three Words to express one in English; the throwing in of so many compounded Words, upon the Back of one another. And lastly, the inserting only of Nouns, as if Speech was made of but one Sort of Words.

· Whereas a Vocabulary ought to contain a Stock of pure primitive Words, and such principally as will he required so be known in the reading of the first easy School Authors; which, when the Scholar is once Master of, be will daily and insensibly be increasing, as he proceeds to other Books; where the Sense assists the Memory, and which will a thousand Times more effectually acquaint bim with their true Signification than a Heap of barren Words, as they are daily strung together in the Ordinary Nomenclatura's.

This following Collection, I suppose, will be abundantly Sufficient for the fitting of the Learner to enter upon the reading of Corderius, the Latin Testament, Eraimus, Erasmus, Phædrus, Mop, Cato, Ovidii Tristia, &c. the Words being mostly Primitive, and such as frequently occur in the Books asorementioned. Indeed, here and there you will meet with a Compounded Word, but that is but seldom; and which we are forced to receive, because it is observable, That some Derivatives and Compounded Words are often more used than the Simple and Primitive.

Gare has been taken to let no Word come in here but what is purely Roman, and has the Authority of some one or more of the Classic Authors: And if, for Method sake, we have been obliged sometimes to make use of a Word less pure than the rest, or whose Signification may be more doubtful, we have not failed to set a Mark upon it as such, or thrown it under the Page among the Notes.

I be true and primitive Signification of the Words, as used among the best Authors, is given; almost all meta-phorical and borrowed Significations being laid aside, that so the Learner might not only have pute Words.

but also a clear Understanding of their Meaning.

I have omitted several Words, which may be easily deduced from some other: For when a Boy knows that Legere is Latin for to read; Audire, to hear; and can tell what the Supines signify; he may be easily taught how that from the sirst Supine, by changing Um into Or, a Noun Substantive is formed, which signifies the Doer; as from Lectum, to read, comes Lector, a Reader. From Auditum, to hear, comes, Auditor, a Hearer. So when he has learned the Significations of Vocare, Ponere, Venire; if he be informed, That these Prepositions, Ad, Con, De, In, Præ, Pro, Re, Sub, Super, being compounded, signify To; Together; Down, or from; In, or Upon; Before, or First; Forth; Back, or Up; Under; Upon, or Over;

be will presently know that Advocare signifies to call to; Convocare, to call together; Devocare, to call down; Invocare, to call upon; Præponere, to put before; Proponere, to put forth; Reponere, to put back; Subponere, to put under; Supervenire, to come upon or over. So be that knows what Amicus, Avarus, signifies, will soon learn what Amicitia, Avaritia, mean; as be that knows what Liber, Culter, are, will soon tell you that Libellus is a little Book; Cultellus, a little Knife. Likewise by him who hath learnt that Tepere, Caleru, signify to be warm, to be hot; the Significations of Teper, Calor, will be presently understood.

I have indeed put in three or four Verbal Nouns, or Nouns which are derived of Verbs, as Pustor, Arator; but the so doing was needful, in order to make some other Words the better to hang together.

One Thing to be observed is, That in the composing of this little Book, respect has been had all along to those Words that are most usual in the Latin Tongue, and not in the English; since this is a Vocabulary for the Learning of the sormer Language, and not of the latter. Besides, many Things which do frequently occur in our Tongue were unknown to the Romans; and therefore you cannot expect Latin Words for them since the Romans could not give Names to Things they knew nothing of.

As to the Method, I have made Choice of the most natural and entertaining that the Subject is capable of; and distributed Matters into such an Order, that the Learner may, at the same Time, and with the same Pains, with the Knowledge of the Words, understand the Things themselves which they express, with their Order and Dependence upon one another. And the better to six both upon the Memory of the young Readers.

Readers, and to give them as clear an Idea as possible of what they learn, I have caused little Draughts and Pictures to be made of such Things as are known and distinguished by their outward Shapes, with Reserrences to the Words that mention them. We have printed the Words that come from the Latin in the Roman charasters; and added the Preterpersest Tenses and Supines to the Verbs.

NOTE,

THE young Reader is to take Notice, that the Figures (1) (2) (3) (4) (5) &c. refer to the same Numbers in the Pictures as those in the Cut do to the same Figures among the Words: And that m stands for Masculine, f for Feminine, and n for Neuter. Also that a short Syllable is marked thus [] and a long Syllable thus [].

Perifcelis, idis, f.

The Romans ordinarily used no Covering for the Head, except the Lappet of their Gown; and this was not a constant Cover, but only occasional, to avoid the Rain, or Sun, &c. Yet at some particular Times, as at the Sacrifices, at the Public Games, upon a Journey, or a Warlike Expedition, we find them using some Sort of Covering for the Head, which Coverings were called Pileum, Galerus, &c.

The Romans in no respect differ more from the Modern Dress, than in that they had nothing answering to our Breeches and Stockings. Yet instead of these, under their lower Coat, they sometimes bound their Thighs and Legs round with silken Scarss, or Fascise, which, from the Parts to which they are applied that and their Thighs are applied.

plied, they called Femoralia, I Ibialia.
